Health Officer C. B. Copeland In Board of Health Organization There Says Health And Sanitation Conditions Are Excellent

NEW ORDINANCE IN VIEW

That of Cows Running At Large And the Sanitation Conditions Governing Cow Stables—Last Notice Given For Dealers to Take Out Milk Certificates

The board of health of North Charleroi met in the borough hall of that place last evening for the purpose of organization for the ensuing year. Members present were: O'Brien, Merkle, Gee, and Copeland. W. L. Williams was elected a new member to succeed Henry Mobley, resigned.

Burgess P. E. Franks officiated and administered the oath of office to the following officers and members: Secretary Jonas Gee, Health Officer C. B. Copeland, new member, W. L. Williams; Dr. A. S. Sickman, holding over for another year as health doctor. John Merkle was elected as president, and the board took up the regular routine of business.

Under the head of reports of officers, the health officer submitted the following for the year ending December 31, 1923:

Contagious diseases, 52; nuisances, 18; nuisances abated, 15; nuisances adjusted, 3. Garbage collection and disposal, 20 tons since April 1, 1923. Prosecutions, 7, and fines, $15. License from maternity home, $5. Health certificates issued, 43; milk certificates issued, 29.

The health officer reported the health conditions in the borough excellent—not a home under quarantine at present.

Cooperation and restrictions governing sanitation on the part of citizens are being recognized in a pleasing and satisfactory manner by the health department.

Among the principal items recognized by the board was the reading of a proposed ordinance controlling cow stables and cows running at large, as submitted by Health Officer C. B. Copeland. The proposition was adopted by the board and the health officer was instructed to have a copy presented to the ordinance committee of the borough council, and they, in turn, to recommend its adoption.

DISCUSS PLANS FOR DISTRICT RALLY

At the business meeting of the W. B. A. of the Maccabees last evening held in their hall, Fallowfield avenue, plans were discussed for the Monongahela district rally which will be held in Belle Vernon, February 19. Under the direction of Captain Elizabeth Fisher, the Charleroi drill team will have charge of the initiation work and the regular installing of the officers for the ensuing year of 1924.

After the business meeting, the Junior members present 18 in number were entertained with a party, which was very much enjoyed. Little baskets of candy were given as favors and two baby dolls were presented to Dorothea Clark and Della Marchinetti for guessing the doll's names correctly. Games, guessing contests and music were the main diversions for the balance of the evening. The senior members present also participated in the dainty luncheon which was served.

BORO REFUSES RAISE REQUEST

Scranton, Feb. 1—(United Press)—Police in Dunmore borough have been turned down in their request for an increase in wages amounting to $20 a month.

The councilmen have just adopted a budget that provides for the old wage scale. The fire department has been increased to the extent of three men and a decision has been reached to float a bond issue of $100,000 to cancel certain bank loans and place in operation an ash and garbage collection department.

Physicians State Former President May Pass Away At Any Time.

Washington, February 1.—(United Press).—Woodrow Wilson's death within a few hours is inevitable, his doctor, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, so informed Mr. Wilson today.

"I am wrecked," Mr. Wilson replied.

Admiral Grayson made a statement to Mr. Wilson, after a consultation with two other physicians, in which all three doctors said nothing could long stay the hand of death.

With tears streaming down his face, Admiral Grayson told the story of the scene today.

Mr. Wilson put his hand on Grayson's and said, "You have been good to me. You have done everything you could."

Grayson wept like a child.

He could not tell the story of the tragic scene at the bedside of his friend, for tears.

Grayson said the former president may die at any hour or may linger on for a day or two. He knows the situation, however, Grayson went on. "He is the gamest man I have known," he said.

No one could see Mr. Wilson today except Mrs. Wilson, his physician, and nurses.

CHARLEROI'S CHANCE IN PATRIOTISM

Opportunity Afforded to Make Liberal Contribution to the Fund For the Harding Memorial — To Earn Honored Place

MASS MEETING FEBRUARY 4

To Be Held In the Upstairs Room of the Municipal Building — Time Is 8 O'Clock, When Members of Committees And Those Who Will Help, Are Invited

A few short months ago our nation was grieved to learn that our chief executive, the Hon. Warren G. Harding had broken under the cares and burdens of his office. A few days later the same nation and the world was stunned, as the news was broadcasted that our friend, philosopher, and statesman had passed away.

Then, and not till then, did we begin to understand the strain upon our president while in office, and only then did we come to a full realization and understanding of the worth of the man who had served so nobly and so well; the man with the great human heart for all mankind in every walk of life; he who, with his life, made the supreme sacrifice, because his noble nature compelled him to strive to carry the cares of all our people upon his own shoulders.

The sad part of life comes from the fact that, so many times, it takes the hand of death to reveal to us the greatness of another.

As a token of our appreciation of his worth, our townspeople will be approached and privileged to contribute to a fund for the erection of a monument to his memory, that will serve to stimulate the oncoming generation of our land to emulate the life example of one who, although President of the United States of America, did not permit his high office to erase from his heart the desire to be a friend and neighbor to us all.

Our time is short and much must be accomplished, if we would do our town justice in this praiseworthy undertaking. This will only be possible by the hearty and unstinted effort of all those who will be called as volunteers, together with a generous contribution from all our people.

One alone can do but little, but our united effort can only spell success. Splendid reports are being had of the generous response of neighboring towns, as well as the marked ac-

DIVORCE REFUSED A DONORA MAN

In divorce decrees handed down by the court 45 mismated couples are granted divorces, the largest number ever granted at one time in this county and now are privileged to remarry again if they so desire.

One divorce was refused, that sought by John Cocchi, of Monongahela, from Lucy Parmalena Cocchi. The libellant charged cruel and barbarous treatment and adultery and the court finds that the libellant himself was responsible for many of the things upon which he based his allegations of mistreatment from his wife. As to the adultery charge, the libellant failed to produce any direct evidence.

Desertion is the ground on which the divorce was sought in fully half of these cases, and cruel and barbarous treatment was alleged in 12 cases.

SEVEN MILL TAX IS RECOMMENDED

T. J. Underwood, county controller, has submitted to the county commissioners his estimates of the amounts necessary for conducting the fiscal affairs of Washington county for the year 1924. His budget estimate, which is dated January 31, covers 14 typewritten pages and goes exhaustively into the financial affairs of the county.

The controller recommends a tax levy of seven mills for the present year. The estimated expenses for the year, as set forth in his report, total $1,058,163.13 and this milliage, he thinks, will be ample to meet all legal demands for funds. The concluding paragraph of the report reads:

"Upon investigation of the assessment records, I find that the valuations for the year 1924 will remain about the same as in 1923, namely Realty, occupations, etc., 7147,236,701, and personal property, $26,769,428, making a total of $174,006,129. At seven mills on the $147,236, 701 we will be able to raise the sum of $1,030,656.91 and four mills on $26,769,428 the sum of $107,077.71, which makes a total of $1,137,734.62 This plus what may be collected from fines, costs and forfeited recognizances which will in all probability amount to $100,000, delinquent taxes $75,000, making a grand total of $1,312,734.62

"As all money in the general fund at the close of business for the year 1923 belongs to the road account, we cannot include this in any way for general purposes for the year 1924, and as the budget totals $1,058,163.13 there will be left for road purposes out of the 1924 taxes, if all collected, the sum of $254,571.49."

Among the estimates set forth in the report are the following; Bonded $115,500; assessment of taxes, $24,000; general elections, $20,000; primary elections, $19,000; county bridges, $100,000; new roads, $784,377.18; penal institutions, $67,000; county home, $100,000; children's home, $25,000; court house, $30,000; jail, $16,000; mother's assistance, $14,015.63.

MEADOW AVENUE COUPLE CELEBRATE WEDDING DATE

Mr. and Mrs. James Ramsey of Meadow avenue, wellknown residents of Charleroi, were delightfully surprised yesterday when a number of their relatives and friends gathered at their home to celebrate their fifty-third wedding anniversary. An evening of thorough enjoyment was spent in music, while their grandson, James Wilford Hoosman, entertained the gathering with some of his "jig dancing." Beautiful and substantial gifts were received by the honored couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey are both very active in their advanced years of age. Coming to Charleroi with the greater part of their family 20 years ago, they have made a host of friends, who will wish them many more years of useful married life. ENLISTS IN THE UNITED STATES ARMY

Joseph Fuchick of Brownsville enlisted at the local recruiting office for the Twelfth United States Infantry, stationed at Fort Howard, Maryland. Fort Howard is one of the oldest forts in the United States.

Sergeant Henderson, who is in charge of the recruiting station here, which by the way, is located in the Postoffice building, said that interest is being evinced by the young men in enlisting, and that he expects a number to matriculate. Sergeant Henderson has a vast amount of literature in his hands, which explains in detail what Uncle Sam requires, and advan-soldier and a country protector. This literature is yours for the asking, without doubt; and besides, Sergeant Henderson, whom we have found to be an agreeable gentleman, will answer any questions that a prospective soldier may care to ask.

John Russel Walker, on a charge of desertion of his wife, Grace Walker, and three small children, was ordered by Judge James I. Brownson yesterday afternoon to pay her the sum of $5 a week until further order. He was also to make the payments through the probation officer and to give bond in the sum of $300 to insure his carrying out the order of the court.

They were married in 1916 and have three children, aged one year, three years and six years respectively. During their married life, the wife alleges that her husband has deserted her three times. He served several months in France during the war, enlisting as a single man although married at the time. Since returning from service, he has claimed to be unable to work, because of a result of being gassed. Mrs. Walker is working in a Washington store and is supporting two of her children, while the other one is with her husband's parents in West Finley township.

Wright Has "No Time" For Politics In His Very Important Job

Harrisburg, February 1.—(United Press).—Secretary Paul D. Wright of the Department f Highways, who in private life is a successful manufacturer at Erie, has "no time" for politics in the work Governor Pinchot has selected him to do.

So long as he is connected with the state government he is interested primarily in putting the highway department on a plane comparable with any well established business enterprise.

"The work of the highway department is a business enterprise and why shouldn't it be run on business methods?" asks Wright.

In an interview with the United Press today he explained some of his policies.

"In the first place, I regard the highway department as performing a business function. Its business is to construct and maintain roads. In this work we must employ many people. They are employed for their fitness to do the job required of them. If they choose to quit, that is their business. If we choose to fire them that is our business. If we discover an employe has been crooked we will not only fire him, but put him in jail, if we can.

"The public wants the job well done and I am going to see that it is well done.

"My idea of the organization of the highway department is that it should be like a military organization. The head of every unit in the department is held responsible for the work. If anything goes wrong he is responsible. I don't want the alibi that he is handicapped by the dead wood he is forced to carry.

"There is only one kind of influence I will recognize in giving anyone a job in the Highway department, and that is fitness to perform the service required. If the politicians can recommend better men than those without political influence they will be placed—otherwise they can all go jump in the river.

"That is a courageous stand to take," Mr. Wright was informed.

"That's not courage, it's intelligence. So long as my conscience is clear they can think or say what they please."

tivity and readiness to serve of those who were named as members of committees.

Our own town, like sister towns, has been solicited much and our citizens have given much time as members of committees for raising funds, but never have we been called in a nobler cause than this. When we learn that the good citizens of other towns have given nearly 100 percent response when called to public meetings to answer the roll call for service on a committee for this work, we can anticipate the zeal with which our own will rally to the cause and attend "our" meeting, when they see their names appearing on this list.

This work must be taken up and completed in one week, which will not permit of personal solicitation in the choosing of committees; therefore, this notice will be the only means available, in so short a time, to enlist you in this effort.

The public meeting will be held in the upstairs room of the Municipal building, on Monday, February 4, at 8 p. m., when all whose names appear as members of committees as well as those who may have been overlooked, and would like to help, will get together for an outline of the work, which, it is hoped, will bring a response well in keeping with this worthy cause.

Contributions of $1 and upwards entitles the contributor to a certificate of membership, as an Associate member of the Harding Memorial Association, upon which is engraved a splendid picture of our late President. Upon the committee will devolve the responsibility of having all our public approached and given a chance of making contribution, but who may be missed and wish to give, will be able to do so, with the assurance that their giving will be appreciated, if they take their money to the local postoffice or any local bank.

The following committees should bear in mind that the name and address of every giver should be obtained, that the Certificate of Membership to the Harding Memorial Association, may be mailed at an early date.

The following is the list of committees chosen for the work:

USE MORE MOTOR BUSSES

Thousand of Them Are Operated Over Routes Totaling Fifteen Hundred Miles.

One thousand motor busses are now operated by more than 100 electric railways over routes totaling 1,500 miles in the United States and Canada, according to a survey recently completed by the editors of Bus Transportation. The figures indicate an increase of nearly 100 per cent in the use of busses by trolley companies since October 1, 1922. At that time there were only fifty-six companies operating 350 busses over 900 miles of highway. Of the 1,000 busses now in operation 225 are in the eastern states. The western states are rapidly approaching this figure, however, with 200. Wisconsin has the largest railway owned bus system in the world. The Wisconsin Motor Bus Lines, inc., a subsidiary of the Milwaukee Electric Light and Power company, operates a bus system which spreads out like a huge fan from Milwaukee and covers 600 miles of highway. One hundred modern speed busses are used on this system. The next largest operation is run jointly by the Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles railway on eleven routes in southern California.

RESCUES STOLEN BABY SEAL

Mother of Little Animal Follows Ship for Eighty Miles and Recovers Infant.

A sea captain not long ago captured a young seal, hoping to tame and rear it on board his ship. He placed it in a sack to secure it, but wide as the ocean was, and swiftly as the ship sped on, the mother was as swift, and followed in search of her young.

When it was first caught the mother howled piteously and the "baby" barked back its grief, but the man was relentless and coolly watched the agonized mother follow him till the ship reached the wharf at Santa Barbara, says Our Dumb Animals.

Here he thought his prize was safe, for surely no seal would venture there, and the ship was docked. Suddenly the mother gave a cry close to the ship, and the little one, as if obeying instructions, struggled, still in the sack, to the edge of the deck and rolled itself overboard. The mother was seen to seize the sack, rip it open with her sharp teeth and joyfully claim her baby. She had swum after it for eighty miles.

Capital in Movie Industry.

The capital invested in the different branches of the moving picture industry in the United States exceeds $600,000,000. About 35,000 persons are employed in production work, and 160,000 persons in the distribution and exhibition of the films. Their salaries, wages, royalties, and commissions exceed $200,000,000 annually. Fifteen thousand theaters are conducted exclusively for the showing of motion pictures; with 1,800 other theaters exhibiting motion pictures in conjunction with vaudeville and other entertainment. The audiences number 50,000,000 each week.

Stand Erect for Happy Thoughts.

After 3,200 tests, Chester W. Darrow of the department of psychology at the University of Chicago, has concluded that bodily attitudes, affect emotional thought. In general, the person with a smiling attitude will think pleasant thoughts more readily and one with a sneer will more easily register unpleasant thoughts, he said.

Bodily postures also are an important element, he added, explaining that the subject standing erect and straight responded more readily to pleasant thoughts than the person assuming a slouching posture.

Quick Retort.

"And you say that you dined at the Hotel Splendid?" counsel for the prosecution asked the prisoner.

"Yes," was the answer.

"What did you partake of?" put in the judge.

"Beefsteak," replied the prisoner.

The judge regarded the man with a cold eye for a moment and then asked:

"On your oath?"

"No," came the reply, without a moment's hesitation, "On a plate."

UP TO THE PEOPLE.

Charleroians are to be given a chance in common with people of other places to subscribe to the Harding Memorial fund.

Tentative plans have been made for the drive, and further arrangements will doubtless accrue as a result of the meeting to be held in the Municipal building next Monday evening, February 4, at 8 o'clock, and to which session there should not only be a large turnout of the citizenry, but a liberal response on their part when the object of the meeting and what is proposed to be done, are considered.

It is not to be presumed that everyone can hand out their shekels unreservedly, but people can give accordingly as they have been prospered and as they realize the work and worth of him who made the supreme sacrifice on the altar of his country's best devotions. A monument to his memory, in which the American people can say they are responsible, will be fitting attestation by them that they appreciated President Harding, the principles for which he stood and manfully maintained, his lofty patriotism, and unswerving devotion to the right.

It is not the dollars that the monument will represent, as it will commemorate him who gave of his life in the pursuance of duty.

The time is short for this local contribution to the fund; but it is not necessary to tell Charleroians this; they have ever responded nobly in causes that were righteous; and the contributions to the Harding Memorial fund is secondary to none that have been presented for the consideration of our citizens. And, like President Harding, they will not fail in the emergency.

PLAYED INTO HIS HANDS.

The general theme of Senator Magnus Johnston's speech at the dinner of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association was that the Mellon tax reduction plan is the inevitable product of a reactionary Administration and considers the interests of the rich rather than of the poor. Naturally such a speech displeased those who heard it, but, inasmuch as such sentiments were expected and Senator Johnson was an invited guest, it did not follow that displeasure could appropriately culminate in hissing. But it did, to the great satisfaction of the speaker. If Magnus Johnson had been an ancient Israelite, he would have exclaimed: "Mine enemies have been delivered into my hands." Being a matter-of-fact modern, he merely said that he had expected the hisses was delighted with sibilant uproar he had caused, and intended to collect and ship West all the Philadelphia newspaper accounts of the reception of his speech in order to prove to his constituents "back home that the Eastern money interests will not listen to anybody who speaks for the plain people."

It has been shrewdly remarked that the Philadelphia bankers "played into the hands" of Magnus, and it looks as if they were unreflecting enough to do precisely that, just as a similar Philadelphia element played into the hands of LaFollette some years ago. La Follette's trap did not work as quickly as did Magnus Johnson's, however. La Follette goaded his audience to an outbreak by intolerable long-windedness and repetition. When following other speakers, he began to talk about 11 p. m. he was listened to patiently and politely for an hour, but along about 2 a. m., he was howled down by desperate men whose only wish was to escape so relentless a wind-bag. Yet La Follette made capital out of the incident just as Magnus Johnson frankly announces his intention to do in his own case.

LABOR TO THE FRONT.

The power of organized labor increases apace. In England the Labor party is actually scheduled to [illegible] government on January 17, but, though that party is not lacking in brains, possessing some remarkably keen intellects, an early downfall under the parliamentary system is expected—owing to the fact that the Labor Party membership is less than a third of the whole House of Commons. In the United States there has been such advance of the Labor element as such into politics,

RAMBONE'S MEDITATIONS

Copyright, 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Samuel Gompers, venerable president of the American Federation of Labor, having long successfully opposed for presumably well matured reasons, every effort to make of that vast organization a separate political party.

But American labor is advancing steadily into the financial field. Several "labor" banks have been opened in recent years, including one in New York backed by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Now [illegible] the International Union Bank of New York, organized by the National Ladies' Garment Workers' Union and other related unions, which received 800 accounts and $600,000 in deposits on its first recent day of opening. According to Morris Hillquit, Socialist and one of the directors of this new bank, the objects of a labor bank are to save for the workers the profits of their savings; the training of workers in the management of business on a larger scale; utilization of the power of credit for enterprises friendly to the cause of labor and the development of workers for greater participation in the future control of business. Leading American financiers are said to welcome the coming of the labor banks as means of cultivating conservation among the leaders of labor.

The wild escapade of the Shenandoah in a winter gale does not seem to have dampened the ardor of those proposing to send the giant airship to the North Pole. "This (North Pole) area," Secretary Denby is quoted as saying, "is certain to be of high strategic value if we look forward to warfare and commerce in the future." He is also alleged to have said that to annex that inhospitable region to the United States is the real purpose of the Shenandoah's prospective northern voyage. How those desolate fields and seas of ice can be employed in either warfare or commerce is left to the imagination.

The list of speakers at the conference of the Association against the Prohibition Amendment opening in Washington on January 21, includes the names of two U. S. Senators, two Congressmen, and a number of men and women of the first prominence in their respective states. It looks as if there must be revision of the saying that no politician will stand up to be counted against prohibition.

THE OFFICE CAT

OF TWO EVILS

"Hey, there. It is forbidden to walk on the railroad tracks."

"Have a heart. We are here to escape the automobiles."

BIRDS OF DIFFERENT COLORS

"I say, Amos Tash, but you and your wife were awfully soft when you were first married. I remember you used to call each other "birdie" didn't you?"

"Yes."

"Do you still [illegible]?"

"Well, I call her a parrot and a magpie and she usually refers to me as a jay."

When is a collision not an accident? When a man driving without a license collides with the state license inspector.

William Tell Jr. must have been a firm believer in the idea that "No metal can touch you."

Is one expected to keep his face [illegible] weighing around 200 pounds holds in her fingers a bit of linen 4x4 inches square and edged with lace which he calls her hanyk?

ENGINEERING BOTH BABIES AND BUSINESS

Would you expect a woman who had adopted as her slogan, "Babies Before Business," to be written up in all sorts of magazines as an unusually successful geological engineer?

Ten years ago, when the two Gould kiddies were healthy, little school children, Nina S. Gould went back to her job of being an assistant geological engineer. In the office of Gould & Gould she has entire charge of reports, maps, cost estimates and enough other technical details to make the average woman—or man—blink. She's an honorary member of Chi Epsilon, a fraternity for women doing geological work.

Mrs. Gould found time, as the children's interests and her own led her outside home walls, to take an active interest first in the kindergarten club and then in the school patrons' club, to organize two Camp Fire groups, and to become an active member in a social study club.

At present she serves as the busi- board of directors of the Y. W. C. A., as vice president of the civic committee of the chamber of commerce, keeps up church and Sunday school work and presides over the Town club with 70 picked business women members and an active city-beautiful program. Also she goes to ball games with the children!

It's hardly fair to call Oklahoma City with its 110,000 people a gopher prairie, even though the Town club is still struggling with untidy chicken yards inside the city limits. Anyway Mrs. Gould's answer to "Would you like to move to New York?" was "No."

But a girl just starting? "A large city is too lonesome," advises this woman of many friends, "for the girl just going into business. She has far more opportunity for making friends in the smaller place. And as to success, if a girl is happy outside of business hours, she makes a more efficient business girl.

"A smaller city is the best place to live (which means to live, laugh and work), to rear a family, and a place where one may have a chance to grow into the life of a community; that is to become an integral part of the growth, development of the neighborhood, the city and the state."

Stenographer recently made a new shorthand record of 324 words a minute. Soon she should be fast enough to report the conversation of ladies at a matinee.

Owning an automobile is great sport, but one of the main objections is that it always needs a new tire just about the time friend wife wants a new hat or something.

One of the scientists says he expects somebody presently to find a chemical that will enable men to get along without sleep. If you are a stockholder in a mattress factory this may keep you awake tonight.

THE COLLECTION

In the gathering twilight she came to him, arms outstretched, lips half-parted hungry for kisses. He stopped and gazed at her, his eyes taking in every curve of her body as he swayed with intoxication as he drank in her ravishing beauty. The baby-blue eyes, the rosebud mouth, the soft glistening tint of her skin and her delicately moulded ankles shimmering in silk. He missed nothing and his heart leaped so high that he was afraid to open his mouth. He took a step forward and heard her deep sighing and he was helpless. A sweet smile slowly grew upon her uplifted face and once more he took a step forward.

"I came," he started.

"I know," she broke in.

"I am the new landlord and I came after the rent," he replied.

NOT A CLEAN ONE

The new cook was reproved for using a stocking to hold the coffee grounds in making coffee. "I don't see what the old girl got so mad about," she said. "It wasn't a clean one."

Everything is divided equally. The rich man has his twin six and the poor man his six twins.

Thomas Edison says Henry Ford is too good to be president. How bad do you have to be?

Resident Has An Awful Experience

"I was twice confined in hospitals, in the last one nothing but gruel water was injected into me 4 times a day, as my stomach would not retain any food. I suffered terribly; was reduced to a skeleton. My folks saw an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has surely saved my life. I weigh 180 lbs. now.' It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

DEMAND THAT MR. DENBY RESIGN

Washington, Feb. 1. — (United Press).—The Senate investigation of the oil scandal was centered today upon Secretary of the Navy Denby, with demands from all quarters that he resign.

The Senate committee will inquire into reported stock market operations by officials or former officials of the government in Sinclair and other oil stocks, about the making of the leases which Albert B. Fall, then Secretary of the Interior, and Denby, gave Sinclair and Doheny interest.

Doheny will also be on the stand for cross-examination by Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, who wants to ask him whether he gave money to any government official besides Fall, to whom Doheny has testified he has loaned $100,000.

Before carying its investigations into these new fields, the committee today will find out whether Fall is really ill and will decide how to go about getting his testimony.

Three disinterested doctors who examined Fall yesterday will report their conclusions to the committee today.

The committee will then decide whether to go to Fall's bedside to get his story of the $125,000 loans from Sinclair and Doheny, and some explanation of his false testimony about the $100,000 loan from F. B. McLean.

Edible mushrooms decay rapidly and will often produce symptoms of poisoning when they are not used in their fresh condition.

Better as It Is.

It is disadvantageous to know what is to happen, for it is wretched to be grieved without the power of changing events.

NEW STATION IN YEAR 1925

Chicago, Feb. 1—(United Press)—The new union passenger station of Chicago will be opened early in 1925. This estimate is made after a survey of the work that remains to be done.

Ground was broken nearly nine years ago. Total cost of the station probably will exceed $90,000,000. The project includes acres of train sheds, miles of tracks and a monumental building which will contain a small city in itself.

Striking features of the gigantic new station include a modern jail for the detention of prisoners awaiting transportation. Travelers religiously inclined will find a chapel that will always be open to worshipers. The station will also have a morgue.

Some idea of the structure's vastness may be gained from the fact that the lobby of the concourse with the subway under Canal street will form a single room 300 feet long and 180 wide. It will join a waiting room 250 feet long and 100 feet wide. Limestone blocks for the station are all cut at the quarries and are numbered so that they may be swung into place without delay. The whole construction has been handled without interruption of a single train. Joshua D'Esposito is chief engineer.

ENGLAND HAD BULL FIGHTS

Queens Mary and Elizabeth Enjoyed Them, and Also Bear-Baiting.

Bullfighting, which is declining in favor with the Spaniards, was once a popular sport in England, though in a somewhat different form. It has only been forbidden by law within the last hundred years.

The bull was tied to a stake, after having the points of its horns protected. Fierce dogs were let loose on it, and a terrific battle would ensue. Bulldogs were bred specially for the sport. Their peculiar jaws gave a grip so strong that the bull could not throw off its attackers once their teeth had met in its shoulder.

Bear-baiting, too, was popular at one time. Both Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth were fond of bear-baitings and bullfights. Great men kept "rings" and there was one in nearly every place of amusement. "Bankside" was a noted place for the "sport" in London. The charge for admission was a penny to enter, another penny to go in the "grand stand" and a third penny for the equivalent of reserved seats.

Thursdays and Sundays were the favorite days for baiting bears and bulls. At one time the theaters were ordered that competition should not interfere with the baitings.—London Tit-Bits.

COPPER DRAGON OF BEFFROI

Twelve-Foot Weather Vane in Ghent Celebrates Its Five Hundred and Forty-Sixth Anniversary.

The Copper Dragon of Beffroi, in Ghent, has just celebrated its five hundred and forty-sixth birthday on the top of its lofty perch on the Beffroi, over 300 feet above the ground. It is six feet in height and eleven and one-half feet in length, extending from the tip of its enormous tongue to the end of its tail.

The copper grasshopper atop Faneuil hall, Boston, was designed by Shem Drowne, a coppersmith of colonial days. Over 180 years old, it has had an interesting history, being present at the Boston tea party and having survived two earthquakes.

Perhaps the public tired of gauging the wind by the weather report in next day's newspaper; or perhaps the ornamental possibilities of this new idea in vane design have given a new fillip to the use of this time-honored institution. Whatever the reason, the weather vane is coming back.

Only Half Efficient.

"These scientific management people," says a well-known business man, "with their extraordinary ideas of doubling or trebling a man's labor, remind me of the humble hod carrier's impossible promise.

"Now a facetious boss said to a new hod carrier:

"'Look here, didn't I hire you to carry bricks up that ladder by the day?'

"'Yes, sir,' said the hod carrier.

"'Well, I have had my eye on you, and you've only done it half a day today. You spent the other half coming down the ladder.'

"Whereupon, the hod carrier, with a grin, responded:

"'Very well, sir, I'll try to do better tomorrow.'"

Water Lily Eighteen Inches Across.

Perhaps the most remarkable of the aquatic plants is the giant water lily known to science as the "Victoria regia." It is a native of Guiana and Brazil. Large, spreading leaves seem to float on the water, though in reality their vast green surface is supported by a strong underwater framework of twisted tissues. The leaves, which are often over six feet in diameter with a rim of three to eight inches high, can support considerable weight. The plant bears immense white flowers, often measuring 18 inches across, which greatly resemble a huge daisy. They open in the evening. The seeds of the Victoria regia are edible. For this reason it is extensively cultivated in the Amazon valley.—Detroit News.

She Might Be Right.

"Children do make the most amusing errors," chirped Miss Amanda, a school marm of the old school. "I requested my children to state in writing what sort of houses they live in. This little girl says she lives in a compartment house. What a quaint mistake, to be sure."

"I wouldn't be too quick about calling that a mistake, Miss Amanda," counseled a younger teacher. "At least I would inspect the house before marking that little girl's paper."

Sure Sign.

Salesgirl, at the busiest counter, noting that the floorwalker was wandering through a maze of refrigerators rolled over softly to Johnette amid the hosiery.

"Hey, dearie!"

"Yes?"

"I think Haroldine is seriously in love this time."

"Impossible," said the other.

"Fact, dearie. She has cut out all but three fellas."

Takes What She Can Get.

"Darling!" exclaimed the happy husband after the minister had pronounced you."

"Of course you are not," she replied; "but after a girl has celebrated her twenty-fifth birthday for five consecutive years she can't afford to be too particular."

FIREMEN LOSE; BADLY BEATEN

The Waynesburg College Quintet completely swamped the Charleroi Firemen in the Armory at Waynesburg last night, 53 to 9. The Firefighters started well, and the spectators were expecting to see a hotly-contested game, when suddenly the visitors became weak. The Waynesburg team then proceeded to pull away from their contestants, leaving the latter farther in the rear as the game progressed. The line-up:

LABOR CABINET FACES FOUR SERIOUS PROBLEMS

London, Feb. 1—(United Press)—Premier Ramsay McDonald and his labor cabinet faced four serious problems today.

First there was the conference over the boundary dispute between Ulster and the Irish Free State, with the former flatly refusing to nominate members for a proposed boundary commission.

Second, the alleged proposition to cut 5,000,000 pounds from the navy appropriations, which has disturbed and angered a large and influential group of naval men.

Third, the worker's weekly, organ of the Clyde side left wing labourites, complained the government is too docile in the hands of the government bureaucracy.

If the labor minister does not know how to manage permanent officials—treat 'em rough' is the only way—he is not fit for office" the weekly said.

Fourth, there was the situation in India, where the viceroy plainly told the legislative assembly that the present regime in India had the support of all parties in England—not the most palatable assertion to a large section of the labor party here which is rather more radical than McDonald on matters of India reform.

lating cows running at large and the building, repairing and keeping of cow stables is, at the present time a paramount issue, as to further assisting the officials of the board of health in discharging their duties covering the matter.

The health officer reported that he would stop the sale of milk by milk dealers who have not taken out milk certificates, by February 4. This is the last and final notice concerning the sale of milk, which is a state regulation and must be enforced by the local health authorities.

The board adjourned to meet in regular session unless by call of the president.

FULL SUFFRAGE TO THE WOMEN

Athens Feb 1—(United Press)—The Greek women's association appealed today to the National Assembly to grant women full suffrage regardless of Venizelos' promise to grant municipal suffrage.

Conflicting ambitions are rendering settlement of the political crisis precipitated by the premier's resignation most difficult. Venizelos recommended formation of a cabinet under M Cafantaris, whom M. Roussous agreed to support on condition Cafantaris would accept deposition of the Clocksbungs.

Meanwhile, efforts to popularize a coalition cabinet in which radical Republicans would participate failed.

COLORED SAINT TAKES A FALL

Madison Tuchstone, a deacon of the colored Baptist church, Donora, appears to have wandered from the straight and narrow way, he having admitted in court yesterday morning the possession of two gallons of moonshine. He was sentenced by Judge James I. Brownson to pay the costs, a fine of $10 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for 40 days. If the fine and costs are paid the sentence will be reduced to 20 days.

John Lango, of Donora, charged with non-support of three minor children, was sentenced by Judge Brownson to pay costs and to pay out of his earnings $30 a month toward their support. The children are now in St. Paul's orphanage, Woodville, the prosecution being made by Mrs. Mary Stratton, an agent of the orphanage. Lango does not live with his wife and had placed the children in the orphanage promising to pay $10 a month towards their support. It is alleged that he owes a bill of $1,326 for their maintenance. The payments are to be made through the probation officer.

Alfred Higgins, of Monongahela, charged by his wife, Helen, with non-support, was discharged, but was directed to pay the costs. The court concluded that the wife had failed to show she was entitled to any support, the evidence showing that she had not only left him but had not been true to him, and that she frequently reviled him. The defendant said he had always provided her with a good home and was willing yet to keep her and provide a home provided she conducted herself as a wife should.

General Butler is quoted as saying that it would be necessary to pay the Philadelphia vice sweepers "more money to keep them from stealing." How much "more" is needed would doubtless vary in individual cases. Thackeray put into the mouth of Beck Sharp the famous remark that "it is easy to be good on ten thousand pounds a year," but probably the majority of General Butler's men would name a more moderate figure.

FAMILY FOUND STARVING NEAR TOWN OF ELIZABETH

Pittsburgh, February 1.— (United Press)—In the midst of apparent prosperity in the Pittsburgh mill district, a family of nine were found starving by agents of the Western Pennsylvania Aid society today. Albert Castor, his wife and seven children, the youngest born yesterday, was found in a shack at Lock No 3, near Elizabeth, in a precarious condition from lack of food.

Castor, a laborer on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad, has not worked for six months; said he has been unable to get work since, although mills, mines, and railroads are taking on men steadily.

Agents learned Castor killed one of two cows yesterday and the family endeavored to eat it. The other cow was found in the stable in a half-starved state. The agents gave Castor money to buy food, and reported their condition to Elizabeth authorities.

HOME TEAM LOSES BUT DEAL UNFAIR

The Charleroi Grand Five lost their first game of the season last night at Fredericktown, when they met the strong Y. D. K. Club. The score was 26 24. The Charleroi fans, who made the trip with the team, were very much aroused over the poor deal the local team was given. In some instances professional men appeared on the opposing team. Richard and Kornhi were the mainstays of the local team. The lineup:

GRAND FIVE		Y. D. K.
Richard	F	Hayes
Dillon	F	Edwards
Schultz	C	Maddigan
Kornhi	G	Virgin
Feeney	G	Hawkins

Substitutes: Gorty for Maddigan, Glunt for Virgin; Field goals, Hayes 1, Maddigan 1, Glunt 4, Hawkins 2, Rickard 6, Dillon 1, Feeney 1, Kornhi 1. Fouls, Y. D. K. Club, 9 out of 41, Grand Five 5 out of 9.
